LEGRAND & THE SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Legrand intends to provide a response to the environmental, economic and social problems of the present and the future.

Legrand has been committed for many years, with its customers and partners, to developing a continuous improvement process and guaranteeing the responsible, profitable and long-term growth of its business.

A global approach for sustainable development

Legrand's approach to sustainable development is oriented towards three areas: social responsibility, the environment and governance. For more information visit: www.legrand.com

Reduction of the environmental impact of the group sites

Since 1996 Legrand has integrated environmental protection and management in the operations by which it manages its industrial sites.

Control of the use of chemical substances

In producing its products the Legrand Group systematically looks for technical solutions which can replace the use of dangerous products.

Ecological products

Legrand puts an eco-design approach into effect to limit the global impact which the products have on the environment during their life cycle.

COMPANY SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

WE SUPPORT

Indices form part of a general policy aimed at transparency, to highlight Legrand's concrete commitment to the Company Social Responsibility framework.

Voluntary initiatives such as signing the Global Compact or respecting the rigid social and environmental criteria laid down by the FTSE4Good and DJSI

"REACH" COMMITMENT

Policy of non-use of substances* included in the SVHC list

* applied whenever a substitution solution exists

EXISTING PRODUCTS

Replacement of materials and articles containing these substances

NEW PRODUCTS

Legrand has developed a complete response to meet all requirements,
whatever the project,
wherever in the world

The hotel industry today faces various challenges: High fixed costs are accompanied by ever-increasing fluctuations in occupancy rates as well as flexible room rates. Meanwhile, guests are becoming more and more demanding, selective and internationally minded. To ensure that the high investments required in hotel buildings remain profitable in spite of these circumstances, Legrand has developed solutions designed to improve customer loyalty and to increase profit through added value services.

RECENT MEDICAL STUDIES HAVE SHOWN THAT LIGHTING HAS A MAJOR IMPACT ON OUR QUALITY OF SLEEP. BLUE SHADES WAKE US UP MORE QUICKLY AND EASILY, WHILE WARM COLOURS ENCOURAGE RELAXATION. LEGRAND SCENARIO CONTROLLERS ENABLE BOTH ARTIFICIAL AND NATURAL LIGHTING (BLINDS) TO BE CONTROLLED INTUITIVELY.

BEDSIDE PANEL
The blinds, curtains, temperature and lighting can all be controlled remotely without having to get out of bed. And programmable scenarios can be used to adapt the atmosphere to suit your mood

Providing a comfortable mattress for your guests is important, but is it enough to ensure they get a good night's sleep in your hotel?

With the right lighting and temperature conditions, you can provide your guests with even more comfort. They will appreciate the ability to control the lighting and the blinds easily using lighting scenario controllers, so that they can cope better with jet lag. And with Legrand thermostats they can program automatic air conditioning at night to improve their quality of sleep.

ALTHOUGH LEGRAND DOES NOT DEVELOP PRODUCTS SPECIFICALLY FOR DISABLED PEOPLE, THE COMPANY DOES DESIGN ITS PRODUCTS BEARING IN MIND THAT IT MUST BE POSSIBLE FOR EVERYONE TO BE ABLE TO USE THEM.

THIS MEANS IN PARTICULAR EASY-TO-ACCESS FUNCTIONS AND A GOOD UNDERSTANDING OF MARKINGS AND PICTOGRAMS.

AUTOMATIC SKIRTING LIGHT - CÉLIANE
A light that comes on automatically as you pass

TOUCH-SENSITIVE SWITCH - CÉLIANE
A switch that is simple and intuitive to operate

To ensure that your guest rooms are accessible to as many people as possible, it is essential to include arrangements to improve how people move around, how they find their way about, etc., right from the design stage.

These arrangements must be well thought out to cover the needs of all types of disability: physical, sensory, cognitive, mental or psychological.

In this context, the electrical aspects are of prime importance. Visual and audible signalling and the quality of the lighting must enable people to move around and find their way in total safety.

Developing and building a hotel means defining a style that will establish the hotel's identity.
It also involves telling your guests a story.

Hotels that stand out do not make choices out of habit or by chance: for them even the smallest detail is important, to distinguish themselves from others.

To help you assert your identity, Legrand offers you the widest possible variety of shapes, materials and finishes, to meet your interior designers' requirements and fit in with their choices. Choose designs from all our wiring device ranges that will best represent your style and the unique experiences available for your guests.

Lobbies are more than reception areas. Because lobbies should not be a lost space and a wasted revenue opportunity, they are now designed to provide both intimacy and social interaction opportunities.

With Legrand's integrated solutions, your lobbies will become lively places where your guests can meet, work, relax and enjoy. Indication of access points and marking out of routes help people find their way around. In small relaxation islands or work areas, individual lighting controls in each zone and the provision of power as close as possible to where it is required ensure convenience and comfort.
